TAXABLE PROPERTY OF THE STATE.

The State Controller has furnished the press an abstract statement of the assessed value of property in the State of of State and county taxes thereon, as reported to the State Controller's office by County Auditors, on October 20, 1873. In forwarding to the Enterprise this tion of involuntary bankruptcy, to be destatement, State Controller Hobart says: "Herewith I hand you a copy of the crease in value of real and personal property shows $3,987,359.93. This of course is exclusive of the products of the mines. prise says this is a very flattering exhibit out right and improperly. of the State's prosperity; that the bullion product is considerably in excess of general estimates, and shows that, with the renewed productiveness of old mines, and what may be reasonably expected from newly developed mines, we may expost a large increase in the bullion product next year. It will be seen, from the tabular statement of the State Controller that Elko county ranks second to Storey; Humboldt next to Elko; Washoe next to Humboldt: Eureka next to Washoe; Ormsby next to Eureka, while Lincoln stands seventh on the list as regards tax able property. Next to Lincoln county comes Lander, then Nye, Lyon, White Pine, Donglas, Esmeralda and Churchill. About half-past two the flyers were tapped off with a fair start, and for the tapped on with a lar start, and for the first four hundred yards they fairly flew over the ground, neck and neck, there being no perceptible difference in either. After the first half Moore fell in the rear, and all of the urging the driver could do failed to increase his speed, but resulted rather to the contrary. John's rider made no extra exertion, the noble animal not requiring any. In gaining, John got ahead about a length in a few stretches and then steadily but slowly widened the gap till the end, coming out more than two lengths ahead, winning the race and money smid loud burrahs for Utah's favorite flyer. ### PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

A FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT. - About noon, day before yesterday, says the Enterprise of the 17th, John Bell, a young man employed about the depot of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad in this city, met with an accident which resulted in his death yesterday at about 12 o'clock. Bell was upon a car leaded with wood, and had placed a stick in the with wood, and had placed a stick in the wheel of the brake in order to get a greater leverage on it. While pulling on this stick it broke, pitching him off between the cars. He fell on the track in such a position that he was caught by the brake bar and dragged along the ground for a considerable distance. A part of the time it would seem that he was risched and showed along partially part of the time it would seem that he was pinched and shoved along partially under one of the car wheels. His left arm, up to near the ellow, was crushed almost to a powder, and he was badly crushed about the hips. His arm was amputated a little above the elbow, but his other injuries were of a nature so his other injuries were of a nature so serious that, as we have said, he died yesterday about noon. He had in his pocket at the time of the accident, two half dellars. One of these was rolled out till but little thicker than a sheet of writing paper, while the atter was comwere ground to a powder, showing that that side of his body must have been pinched under one of the car wheels. Deceased was a native of Prince Ed-ward's Island, and was 23 years of age.

THE Virginia Chronicle gives the folfollowing notice of the five persons burned to death when the Dayton House was destroyed: Hiram Nash, one of the lessees and keepers of the hotel, a native of Maine, aged about 28 years. He was an old resident of Dayton, a single man, and had been for some years in the grocery business. John Norton, a native of Ireland, aged 30 years and single. He was a millman, and had been working in San Francisco, Dec. 22.—The weather remains cloudy and cold. The bar is breaking badly. Total rainfall for the season, 9.31 inches. Small-pox and scarletina are increasing in the city, despite the rains, which have effectively also played the range of the town, save, perhaps, to the proprietor of the hotel who was burned with him. It is said that this man passed through Silver City yesterday afternoon on his way to Dayton, and small-pox and scarletina are increasing in the city, despite the rains, which have effectually cleansed the sewers.
